FIRE LOSS IS EXAGGERATED

Eye Witness Tells of Scenes He Saw While at Beaudette and Rainy River.

A DEATH LIST OF FIFTY

Does Not Think Number of Those Burned Will Exceed This Number.

FAKIRS AND THIEVES

Soldiers Shot Down Several Men Caught Looting Ruins—A Severe Setback.

An eye-witness of the disastrous fire at Beaudette and Spooner told his story to the Daily Capital this morning. The witness was Mr. O. C. Bailey, who is well known around town as the discoverer of the Peace Pass Coal Mine on the banks of the Little Pembina River.

Mr. Bailey went down to Beaudette from Edmonton to visit his people who live there and was just in time to see the great fire. His people, luckily, live up the river some distance and so escaped any loss of life or property.

"The stories in the newspapers," he said, "are all wrong as to the number of people that were killed. I suppose that if you put the number at fifty as the total loss it would be over-estimating it. The losses were mostly by amongst the settlers living in the country outside and there was only one fatality in the town itself."

"The fire came up like lightning with a tremendous wind blowing, and in three hours there was nothing left of the town of Beaudette. In Rainy River, just across the river, I saw a team of horses lying dead in the street. They just died from the heat, which was something awful."

"The town is full of soldiers and police as soon as they could be drafted in, and it was not safe for anyone to go around unless they had very urgent business, as the soldiers had authority to do anything that they wished." One man was caught picking the lock of the safe in the National Bank and they shot him right out of hand without asking any questions. Several more men that were caught in the act were shot without a word. Those towns are border towns and

It may be said in general terms that the idea is immensely popular in Ireland, Scotland and Wales. This explains John Redmond's recent volte face, after years spent in an uncompromising denunciation of all schemes of devolution.

There is also strong opposition among certain classes, for example, the property-holders of Scotland, who argue that a local legislature would be intensely radical and that property there would be on a greater danger than ever.

It is impossible to say what progress has been made by the conference, but it is admitted that the situation is now critical. Lloyd George and other members of the government have postponed their partisan speeches which were booked for next week until a recall has been reached. Failure to agree would be followed, no doubt by the announcement of rival schemes for the reform of the Lords, and an early election for a decision by the country.

On the other hand, if a compromise is reached, the sweeping changes involved must in any event be submitted to the people, but the election would be postponed until there had been an opportunity for a thorough canvass of the great new issues. It is believed that the conference will finish its work one way or another within a week.

petestis of Russian peasants, give lots of trouble. Their warm fleecy lining and well tanned hides render them invaluable for turning off rain and cold. Almost invariably they bring a goodly store of them in their baggage, ostensibly to wear them, but to sell them to their fellow countrymen. But customs officers are wary and suspect even the simple-minded peasant; three months ago a horse consignment of luggage to one man aroused their suspicion. Questions were asked, the baggage searched, and duty had to be paid on a large number of coats, which were valued at $30 apiece.

Many Immigrants in Last Two Days

The rush of immigrants during the last two days is almost a record. In addition to those recorded on Saturday nineteen others arrived. While there were a few Americans, the majority were Russians from the province of Galicia. In their long sheepskin coats and white trousers they had an odd half-Oriental appearance. These same sheepskin coats, so char-

Havana, Oct. 17.—A cyclone has struck the island of Cuba with appalling velocity. It is beyond doubt more serious than the hurricane of 1905, which cut off many lives and did great damage. There is a heavy loss of life and property damages are great. Wire communication with the interior is cut off.

SENATOR ROY SATISFIED TO BE SENATOR FROM EDMONTON DIST

Has Not Been Offered Position of Canadian Commissioner to France Yet, And May Not Accept If Offer Does Come—Thinks Tariff Relations Will Be Most Important Issue in Coming Session of Dominion House.

Senator Phillippe Roy, who arrived in the city last night from the east when interviewed by the Capital this morning in reference to the statement made several days ago that he was slated as Canadian commissioner to France, in succession to the late Hector Fabre, who died in Paris a short time ago, said that no definite offer has yet been made to him.

"Will you accept the appointment if it is offered?" asked the Capital. "I do not know," replied Senator Roy. "I am quite satisfied with my present position as senator for the Edmonton district, and something pretty attractive will have to be offered to me before I shall resign my present post."

Senator Roy stated that things were quiet in the political arena at Ottawa at present, but that with the opening of parliament on Nov. 17, something interesting might be looking for in connection with the tariff relations between the United States and Canada. Senator Roy stated that the question would probably be the most important of the session, but he would not comment himself on the policy of the government. In fact, he said that he was not aware what policy the government would assume.

LT-GOV. BULYEA TO BESWORN IN NEXT THURSDAY MORNING

Rodolphe Boudreau, Clerk of the Privy Council Will Administer Oath—Premier Sifton is Expected Back Tomorrow.

L. N. H. Rodolphe Boudreau, clerk of the privy council who is to officiate at the swearing in of Hon. G. H. V. Bulyea as Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta for a second term, arrived in Edmonton Saturday night from Regina, where he inaugurated Gen. Brown of that city as Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan.

The ceremony of swearing in Lieutenant-Governor Bulyea will not take place until the return of Premier Sifton from his eastern trip, and inquiry at the government building this morning elicited the information that Mr. Sifton was expected to return tomorrow night or Wednesday morning. Therefore it is probable that the ceremony will take place on Thursday at the latest.

On his arrival, Mr. Boudreau, was met by his brother Mr. Lucien Boudreau, of St. Albert, who accompanied him to the cathedral town, where he will remain until the day of the ceremony.

BAD CAVE IN

At one o'clock this morning the walls of the excavation for one of the largest land piers of the high level bridge on the Edmonton side, collapsed and many tons of earth fell in, carrying with it a derrick, several mixers, hoists and several other pieces of machinery. The cause of the collapse is attributed to natural pressure. The excavation is the same one in which a vein of coal was discovered two or three weeks ago, and was in depth, prior to the collapse, about twenty feet. It will take several weeks before the damage will be remedied which will result in a corresponding delay in the completion of that particular pier. It will not be known if any of the machinery is injured until the earth is removed.

FORECAST GREAT CHANGES IN ENGLISH PARLIAMENT

New York, Oct. 17.—A cable dispatch to the Sun from London says that fundamental changes in the British constitution and the whole system of parliamentary government are impending. The conference of leaders of the government and the opposition, which has been considering a possible compromise on the question of the House of Lords, held four sessions this week. The conferences have now reached the crux of their deliberations. Not a word of the proceedings has been allowed to transpire officially, but it is possible to give the general scope of the great changes contemplated.

The basis of the sweeping changes under discussion is Earl Grey's federation scheme for the empire, which he outlined during his visit to London in June. This prospect provides for local home rule for Ireland, Scotland, England and Wales. The imperial parliament is to consist of a House of Commons of 200 members and a Senate of the same number. The Commons will comprise approximately 25 Irish and 25 Scottish, 12 Welsh and 18 English members. The Senate will include 100 of the present Lords. The colonies will be represented by six-year senators on an approximate population basis. This, of course, is only the scheme in the rough for there are many considerations which may modify it.

It is impossible to say what progress has been made by the conference, but it is admitted that the situation is now critical. Lloyd George and other members of the government have postponed their partisan speeches which were booked for next week until a recall has been reached. Failure to agree would be followed, no doubt by the announcement of rival schemes for the reform of the Lords, and an early election for a decision by the country.

On the other hand, if a compromise is reached, the sweeping changes involved must in any event be submitted to the people, but the election would be postponed until there had been an opportunity for a thorough canvass of the great new issues. HE GOT THE LAND

Joseph Perrault, the man who waited on the land office steps for ten days, filed his claim and, received his claim this morning. The land is north-west corner of the section in the Saddle Lake district, near Lac St. Vincent. Mr. Perrault has made a record in waiting for land. Ten days is the longest wait that has yet been recorded.

typhoid fever when the water is sewage polluted; but for the proper and scientific installation, as well as for the oversight and management, expert services give the best results, and where a municipality will pay the services of an expert, the expenditure is more than compensated by the results obtained. These facts are clearly shown by the work and operation of what is known as the Bubbly Creek Water Purification Plant of the Union Stock Yard and Transit Co. of Chicago, which has been in operation for nearly two years.

The following information, descriptive of it is taken from the report of C. A. Jennings, chief chemist and superintendent of filtration:

First, as to the class of water. Bubbly Creek receives the sewage of some 350,000 people—about the population of the city of Montreal, and a larger population than the city of Toronto. The normal size of the creek is not given, but the bacterial results for a period of twelve months show the maximum to have been 2,500,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter (about 18 drops), while the minimum was 30,000—the average being 45,000 per cubic centimeter.

Without entering into the details it may be said that the plant consists of pumps, a canal, now part of the sedimentation system, three pairs of settling basins and mechanical filter. From these the treated water flows into the clear-water well and from there it is supplied to the stock yards.

Consequent upon the close and intelligent oversight maintained, various changes have been made both in the operation of the plant and the chemicals used in the treatment of the water. These can be learned in detail by a reference to the "Engineering Record" of September 24th, 1910. At the present time, the constant use of sulphate of alumina, a solution of a strength of 3.3 per cent being used. Subsequently hypochlorite solution of the strength of 1.2 per cent is added, after which the water passes through the filters and is then ready for use.

As regards the cost of operating this particular plant, the contract guarantee called for nothing in excess of twenty dollars per million gallons, this to include the cost of chemicals, labor, and power (pumping), but no depreciation charges and interest on investment. The cost of operation has averaged only $10.54 per million gallons, and a still further reduction in cost of operation will be shown as, since the use of hypochlorite, a total reduction of some 60 per cent, has been made in respect to chemicals alone.

"Too much credit cannot be given to Mr. C. A. Jennings for this practical demonstration of how water so strongly polluted with sewage may be converted into a potable water of a high quality. The reporter states that it was drunk by himself and his assistants in preference to city water, and he significantly adds: 'There has never been a single case of sickness or intestinal disorder caused by doing so.' Undoubtedly, municipalities having water supplies liable to contamination by sewage have much to learn from this interesting work and they certainly can have no excuse hereafter for serving out to the public a sewage-polluted water. Issued by the Commission of Conservation at Ottawa.

CORRECTION.

To Every Reader of the Capital:
Dear Sir,—I am desirous of enlisting your interest and support on behalf of the Boys Brigade and of the Scout Movement.

The Boys Brigade was started about five years ago and two years ago was enrolled as a Cadet Company. During that time the work has gradually developed in spite of many difficulties, and today there is a membership of 70, without including the Scouts, some twenty of whom have taken the obligation. The movement has won its way into public favor and appreciation, and its value in the general training of our boys is admitted by all.

Hitherto the Brigade has been solely under my direction, assisted by Messrs. Moorhouse and Livsey, who for five years have been my loyal helpers. I find myself now no longer in a position to continue that sole responsibility. Moreover the fall which we have hitherto been using for drill purposes, by the courtesy of the Vestry of All Saints church, is required more and more for parish purposes. This year we can only meet once a week.

I am unwilling to see the work of five years cease, now that it is bearing fruit, and would earnestly ask your support and co-operation in an effort to put the organization on a permanent basis.

A meeting will be held in All Saints school room on Tuesday next, 18th inst., at 8 p.m. when I hope you will be present and help to attain the object I have in view.

Yours faithfully,
H. ALLEN GRAY,
Boys Brigade Captain.

HUMOR AND PHILOSOPHY

Distinction.

A Counter Proposal.

Further Proof.
"He's as regular as a six day clock."
"I noticed that he always looks run down on Sundays."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Three Metals.
A cubic foot of aluminum weighs less than 100 pounds, a cubic foot of cast iron 450 pounds and a cubic foot of copper 550 pounds.

The Turkish Language.
Turkish is the softest toned of modern languages.

Darkening of Hair.
Hair darkens some 65 per cent during the first five years of life and a further 25 per cent up to the age of forty-five. This darkening is more marked in males than in females.

Iridescent Fishhooks.
Natives of a number of south Pacific islands make fishhooks of mother-of-pearl, so bright that no bait or other lure is necessary.

Government Land.
The land owned by the United States government exceeds in area the region east of the Alleghenies, enough to make two states like Texas, twelve like New York and fifty like Massachusetts.

Related Antiquities.
Striking resemblance has been pointed out between the remarkable ancient ruins at Zimbabwe, in Rhodesia, and antiquities in Cornwall, England.

Corundum.
With the exception of the diamond, emery and corundum are the most natural abrasives known. Corundum is pure aluminum oxide, and its hardness is next to that of the diamond. Emery, so far as composition goes, may be considered a mixture of corundum with more or less magnetite or hematite.

Billiards.
The invention of billiards is generally attributed to a French artist about the year 1617. Who introduced the game into Britain is not known, but it is mentioned both by Shakespeare and Spenser, and the time of its introduction seems to have been the close of the sixteenth century.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

The Metropolitan Methodist church of Strathcona, held special anniversary services yesterday to commemorate the opening of the church two years ago. Rev. W. J. Kerby of Calgary preached at both services which were largely attended. Special contributions to the amount of $5,000 were taken to reduce the debt incurred in building the church. This evening a social and concert will be held in the church as the final part of the anniversary program.

The evening service was largely attended and special music had been arranged. Several anthems were rendered in splendid form, while Miss Penelope Davies of Edmonton sang the solo: "My Redeemer and My Lord."

STANLEY KETCHELL DEAD, WAS CHAMPION OF WORLD

Quarrelled With a Man Who Later Met and Shot Him—Murderer is Captured

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 15.—Stanley Ketchell, better known as Stanley Ketchell middleweight champion, was wounded fatally it is believed this morning, at ranch at Conway. Ketchell was alone breakfasting at ranch of R. P. Dickerson, when ranchman, Walter A. Hurst, with whom Ketchell had some words the previous evening, entered with a 22 rifle, and ordered "Throw up your hands."

Ketchell taken by surprise, but apparently remained cool, instead of complying he arose. His back was bolted toward his assailant; when Hurst, but a few feet away, fired. The bullet struck Ketchell below the right shoulder blade and ranging forward entered right lung.

Hurst ran out and made for heavy timber along Osage River bottoms. As Hurst ran out, ranch superintendent, Chas. Bailey, entered, to whom Ketchell said, "He shot me," and pointed in direction Hurst had taken. Immediately after Ketchell lapsed into unconsciousness until about noon, when thought still unable to speak, he recognized those about him.

Owing to Bailey giving his first attention to the wounded prize fighter, Hurst got a good start, but is being pursued with bloodhounds. Dickerson was in Springfield, but soon as he heard of his guests shooting, he promptly left with physicians on special train for Conway, forty miles distant. Ketchell's state is exceedingly precarious and efforts are being made to bring him to Springfield for immediate operation.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 16.—Stanley Ketchell died here Saturday night at 7:05. An hour before he died Ketchell regained consciousness. There was then thought to be a slight chance of his recovery. His condition soon took a decided change for the worse, however, and he passed away.

The pugilist died in the Springfield Hospital, where he had been rushed on a special train shortly after Mr. Dickerson, an operation failed to check the bullet. Out in the woods hills east of here, Hurst, Ketchell's slayer, heavily armed, is fleeing before a pack of bloodhounds and posse of officers and citizens. Dickerson has placed a price of $500 on the dead body of Hurst.

The members of posse due armed with repeating rifles. Hurst is believed to be desperate and no one intends to take any chances of asking him to surrender.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 16.—Walter A. Hurst, who shot Ketchell was captured today at the home of Thomas Haggard, one mile from Niagara, Mo. Hurst was taken to the Webster County jail at Marshall, where he is being closely guarded.

After being placed in his cell the prisoner made a statement in which he said he shot Ketchell in self defense. He says he believed the prize fighter to throw up his hands and when he did not obey he fired.

Last night overcome with hunger and fatigue from fleeing through the rough Ozark country, Hurst reached the home of Haggard where he applied for a place to sleep and something to eat. He was given food and heard of the shooting but a short time later learned of the affair.

Shortly after 4 o'clock this morning Hurst secured the services of neighbors and they awakened Hurst at the point of a gun. The man then broke down and admitted the shooting. He was then turned over to the officers and taken to Marshall.

Hurst in telling his story said Ketchell made insulting remarks to Goldie Smith, a cook employed at the farm. He said words passed between Ketchell and himself and he then demanded that the prize fighter throw up his hands. When the champion refused to do so he said he was so frightened, knowing Ketchell carried a revolver, that he fired and hardly without realizing what he had done. Goldie Smith, the woman in the case, will be held pending an inquest. Funeral services were held at the City today and tomorrow, the body will be taken to Grand Rapids, Michigan, the home of Ketchell's parents.

A BUSY AFTERNOON FOR THE FOOTBALL ENTHUSIASTS

Montreal Beat Ottawa—Tigers Downed Argos—Varsity and McGill Were College Winners

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—Montreal footballers defeated Ottawa here Saturday twelve points to ten. Fumbling in the second half cost Ottawa the match. They played good football in the first half and led nine to nothing in the second half but failed to hold half, Montreal, having improved in the meantime, scored two tries and won.

Tigers Swamped Argos
Hamilton, Oct. 17.—Tigers proved to be too strong for Argonauts of Toronto in a game here on Saturday and piled up a score against them of nineteen to four. The Argonauts drew first blood five minutes after the opening of play, but the Tigers came back at them and made it two to one for the home team at the end of the first quarter. In the next quarter the Tigers got a try and converted and the half ended eight to one in their favor. The Tigers did no scoring in the third quarter, but the Argonauts made their point, leaving the score Tigers 8, Argonauts 4. There were some sensational plays in the last quarter. Kid Smith kicked a goal for the Tigers making the score twelve to four. Then the Argonauts were forced to rouse and the home team scored a try and converted, making the final score 19 to 4.

Toronto, Oct. 17.—The Varsity team fairly swallowed up Ottawa College in the game of rugby on Rosedale field, Saturday. The score was 36 to 1 for the home team. In the first quarter each team seemed to be trying the other's strength and the only score made was one point by Varsity on a rouse.

There was another rouse for Varsity early in the second quarter, followed by a pack of bloodhounds and posse of officers and citizens. Dickerson has placed a price of $500 on the dead body of Hurst.

loved by an unconverted try and two more rouses. The half ended nine to nothing for Varsity. In the third quarter a rouse gave Varsity another point, a converted try and an unconverted try followed. Then Varsity was forced to rouse and Ottawa secured their only point, the quarter ended twenty-one to one. Early in the fourth quarter Maynard of Varsity made a magnificent try on a long pass and converted. Lajoie made another try which was also converted. Then a rouse ended the scoring.

Montreal, Oct. 17.—While the city's team in the interprovincial were covering themselves with glory at Ottawa, McGill was ably upholding the city's rugby reputation at home by downing Queens, of Kingston, by a final score of 6-2. The game was one of the best ever seen in the city, though it is conceded McGill will have to play the game of its life in order to win the championship from Varsity.

Queens had come here determined to register a victory and confidently expected to do so especially as McGill presented a somewhat patched-up team. Matthewson, the big line plunger of whom much had been expected, was out of it with blood poisoning, and Paisley, the quarter, had not recovered from the injuries he received in Toronto last week. Besides these men, several others of the red and white players had minor injuries received in the week's practice. The game started off with a rush. Queens forced the play from the very outset. McGill got a try in the first half and Queen's only a rouse. Each scored a point in the second half. The game was not spectacular.

COBB REFUSES

Star Says If Baseball Authorities Wait for Him to Make Charges They Will Have Long Wait

"I don't intend to pick a quarrel with anyone," said Cobb today when asked to comment upon the fact that numerous sporting writers throughout the country had openly charged that the St. Louis Americans league team deliberately allowed Larry Lajoie to make eight hits in two games, thereby permitting the Frenchman to wrest the premier batting honor from Cobb.

"I have absolutely nothing to say detrimental to Lajoie," said Cobb. "The official scorers gave Lajoie eight hits. They should know what they are doing. If the records show Lajoie got eight hits and through them jumped ahead of me in the batting percentage, that's the record and there is no going around it."

"I do not propose to get mixed up in any controversy. If there has been a crooked deal pulled off in St. Louis sooner or later the persons implicated will suffer. That is a question for baseball authorities to take up, but I hardly think there will be an investigation if the commission waits for me to demand one."

Cobb's auto broke down here while on his way from Buffalo to join the all star team at Philadelphia. He proceeded by train tonight and will play tomorrow.

His Splendid Twirl & Responsible for Giants Win Over the Highlanders

New York, Oct. 17.—New York Nationals won today's game from the Highlanders purely on their merits. Both teams were equal in the fielding, but the Giants were the more timely hitters. Deneke started to do the pitching for the winners but was pulled out at the end of the fifth as the American Leaguers were finding him rather easy. Matthewson finished the contest, being master of the situation throughout, and duplicating in the four innings he worked his great performance of Thursday when he struck out fourteen men which equals the American League record for this season. The present series is the first ever held between the New York clubs and was largely attended.

Matthewson's work has rarely, if ever, been equalled in any game in New York. When his opponents threatened to score, Matthewson was at his best, fanning the batsmen with a high ball and a fade away. The score:

New York Americans 4 2 2
New York Nationals 6 2 2
Vaughn, Quinn and Mitchell; Drucker, Matthewson and Myers.

CINCY LEADS IN OHIO RACE

Won Double-Header From Cleveland on Saturday—Naps Won Sunday Game

Cincinnati, Oct. 17.—The superiority of the National League over its American rival was demonstrated here Saturday when Cincinnati won a double header in the series for the Ohio state championship. The Reds out hit the Naps by a big margin and were also superior in the fielding department. Both teams were heavy with the willow, Cincinnati piling up twenty-nine hits in the two games and Cleveland seventeen. The scores:

Cleveland 7 9 0
Cincinnati 8 15 3
Kaller, Fawcett and Adams; Gasper, McLean and Clarke.
Second game—
Cleveland 2 8 3
Cincinnati 5 14 2
Young, Fawcett and Adams; Gasper, Burns, McLean and Clarke.

Saturday's game was all Cleveland's Cincinnati being fortunate to escape a shut out, although they played knifless ball in the field. The score was 7 to 1. Falkenberg and Adams battery for Cleveland, while Beebe, Burns and McLean performed for the hoards with Redman catching.

WILL COACH COLUMBIA

New York Report Concerning Percy Lesser's Hockey Intentions.

New York, Oct. 17.—The Columbia University hockey management has anticipated the season, and secured Percy Lesser as coach. He is ranked as one of the best players in Canada, and was goalkeeper on the Ottawa team which won the Stanley Cup. Lesser is due to arrive here about the middle of next month, and will remain until January 15. It is expected that he will play on one of the teams of the American Hockey League during the season.

EVANS MAKES REPORT

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Umpire Evans, of the American League, today submitted a detailed report to President Johnson regarding the Lajoie incident at St. Louis last Sunday. President Johnson did not make public the entire report, but announced that Umpire Evans had given Lajoie a clean bill of health.

With the debate regarding Lajoie's performance becoming more heated daily, President Johnson is said to have offered as the best solution of the matter the returning of the automobile prize to the donors. That, in the league president's opinion, would bury the unpleasant business, but in order to reward the players just the same, he would have the league present suitable prizes to both Cobb and Lajoie. If the trouble assumes serious proportions, it is quite probable that President Johnson will make an effort to carry through this move.

OF THE Y.M.C.A.Secretary Ward Outlined History and Purpose of This Great Organization.

OBJECT OF THE CAMPAIGN

Congregation of Wesley Methodist Church Heard Stirring Address Last Night.The history and purpose of the Young Men's Christian association was the subject of Mr. J. W. Ward's address at Wesley Methodist church last evening.Mr. Ward prefaced his remarks by reading the magnificent thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians, which bonds the note of Love so characteristic of the Y. M. C. A. movement.His address was in part as follows:
It is sixty-six years since George Williams founded the Y.M.C.A. He was at the time clerk in a dry goods store in London, along with one hundred and forty others, the temptations of whose lives found no help in the Christian effort of the day. Out of a prayer meeting held in an upper room sprang the original Y. M. C. A.
Now there are 8,000 branches in the globe.The Canadian work began in 1851 with the foundation of an association in Montreal, the first by just two weeks of the continent.The immediate success of the movement was due in part to the great world exhibition in London in 1851, promoted by the Prince Consort and which attracted numbers of the finest minds of Christendom. The Y. M. C. A. idea caught; then and they carried it back to their respective countries where the seed, once scattered, multiplied abundantly.It is natural that in an association of prayer, the religious movement should be predominant. It has been east up against the Y.M.C.A. that they have allowed other lines of work to overshadow the religious aspect, but such is not true. The Bible study movement in the universities, promoted by the Y. M. C. A. is one undeniable proof. The students volunteer movement, whose aim is to evangelize the world in this generation isanother. At the recent missionary conference in Edinburgh, although by country to their Scottish hosts, Lord Balfour of Burleigh, was elected chairman, the real leader was John R.
Mott, the student missionary. The Y.M.C.A. has also awarded the foreign field, although always at the request of the missionaries or others. Far so keenly is its influence felt due in Hong Kong, Korea, and Japan the movement is materially aided and supported by the government.Next to the religious comes the educational work—not so noticeable in the old land where there is such a splendid system of technical night schools—here on this continent where the worker needs educational help is his work. In some centres the Y. M.
C. A. classes resemble a great university.The social and physical work of the association are too well known to require to be enlarged on.As to the classes touched it was first principally the clerks to whom the movement made itself felt. But on this continent one of the most important parts of our work is the railroad work. This is recognized by the railroads themselves and seventy-five per cent of the lines in America are now supporting the Y.M.C.A.
Those who have travelled the main line of the C.P.R. have seen the fine new Y.M.C.A. at Kenora, built entirely by the C.P.R., one first of a number to be built at Ignace Chapleau and other divisional points. The railroad see and realize their value.The association's work among soldiers and sailors is known and esteemed all over the world. The Japanese emperor made a personal gift of $5000 to the Y.M.C.A. as an acknowledgment of its appreciation of their work in the army in Japan.
President Taft has stated that in a few years no warship will have harbor without one or more secretaries on board whose salaries will be paid by the government.The remarks I have made will give a general idea of the history of the association and the work which at present it attempts to prosecute. But I do not wish to spend more time on such general remarks but to turn more particularly to the local conditions in which we are more interested.The Edmonton association has a history of between four and five years.
It was in 1907 that I came to Edmonton, having received an invitation to the West End Y.M.C.A., Toronto, be-cause I felt the field was bigger here.
The building here was being completed.
In February 1908 we were in with a debt of $5000. We have had to stick pretty close to the business end ever since and have been handicapped by our lack of funds. Our staff is very limited and much overworked. Our boys' secretary sits a class of 300 boys, not present all the time, but always on his mind, and you know what that means. Our athletic director has had to relieve the office staff in spite of the fact that he is overworked.
We have not had much time for considerable work, but in spite of the fact that we have not been able to pay money in addition to our regular work, the debt has been reduced to $38,000. We should have prepared to wipe out the debt last year but just when we heard that the Y. M. C. A. had purchased a new building and we decided to leave the debt to them. We feel that we can appeal to you on the record of the work done and the requirements of the future for your cooperation in wiping out the debt on our building.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

A big crowd assembled at the pleas-though the temperance film, "The nounced, did not arrive, the manage-a Biblical subject, in addition to the temperance film shown on the previous Sunday. The Citizens' Band was in attendance, and met with a good reception giving several excellent selections in first-class style. Mr. Travis Barker officiated as chairman in his usual efficient and cheerful manner.On Tuesday evening next at eight o'clock the Temperance and Moral Reform league will inaugurate their winter work, when Mrs. (Dr.) Crux, B. A., will give an illustrated lecture at the First Baptist church on "Japconsented to repeat this lecture at

W.R. CLARKE FILES

States That J. K. Cornwall Was Never Paid Anything as a action brought by Alfred Hawes of Toronto against W. R. Clarke, J. K.

Cornwall, W. Minny, the Alberta and Great Waterways Co. and the Canada
West Construction Company and the Athabasca Railway company, was filed by F. D. Byers in the Supreme court on Saturday.In the defense, Mr. Clarke denies the charges in toto and places the burden of proof in the hands of the plaintiff. He denies all knowledge of the original Athabasca syndicate, and says that the plaintiff has no claim or partin the Alberta and Great Waterways company. Minny, he says, was simply retained by him as his solicitor and had no part in the Athabasca railway syndicate.He and some other persons were concerned in the arrangements for the guaranteeing of the bonds of the Alberta and Great Waterways railway, and that Mr. Cornwall was not concerned in the matter.He also denies that there was any agreement for him to pay Cornwall $10,000 in cash and stock to the amount of $100,000 as remuneration for services rendered.In conclusion he states that he has not received profits to the extent of $20,000 from the sale of the A. & G.
W. bonds and further that he had no dealings with the plaintiff and the Canada West Construction company, and the Alberta and Great Waterways railway, entitling the plaintiff to one sixth interest in both companies.The new fire hall at Strathcona which has been completed for some time, has at last been occupied.

O'CONNOR IN GREAT SPEECH ON HOME RULE FOR IRELAND

Beginning with an eloquent word picture of the Ireland of the past and leading up to a portrayal of the Ireland of the present, concluding with a fervent hope and an optimistic feeling for the Ireland of the future, T. P. O'Connor, M. P., of the distinguished movement, of John Redmond, leader of the Irish party in the Imperial parliament, on Saturday night at the separate school hall awayed a large audience which occupied every available space, in an address full of fervidness, eloquence, and power, in advocacy of the home rule cause.

The introduction of the visitor was made by Mr. Geo. B. O'Connor, of Edmonton, who acted as chairman. The chairman referred to Mr. O'Connor as one of the coming Irish statesmen, meaning that in the formation of the Irish parliament, of which he had high hopes, the speaker of the evening would be one of the foremost members.

On rising, Mr. O'Connor was greeted with a spontaneous outburst of cheers.

"I was rather amused," he said in opening, "at the chairman's reference to me as a coming young statesman, for on the other day in Ottawa I celebrated my (and birthday). But on seeing this generous audience and a demonstration of their sympathy and accord with our cause, it makes me feel like a rising young man. The chairman in his kind introduction quoted from a local newspaper that Mr. O'Connor would probably speak on the home rule question. I must say that the newspaperman who wrote that was divinely inspired, for I am not going to speak on home rule."

Mr. O'Connor then launched into his theme, referring first to the ravages of landlordism in the Ireland of the past.

"The greatest number of the struggles of history revolved around land questions," he said, "and in Ireland the case was particularly such. The land of Ireland is practically the sole industry of the country."

"Before the Norman invasion, the feudal system existed in Ireland. There was the chief of the clan, with the tribesmen under him, each one tilling the soil for the benefit of the chief. The Norman conquerors perceived that and began a reformation of the system. The transformation of the system was the cause of much trouble, the expropriation of land being a chief source of difficulty, and for several centuries the pages of the history of Ireland are soaked in human blood. One of the officers of Queen Elizabeth on his return from the province of Munster on a certain occasion left behind him nothing but corpses and ashes, everything being destroyed. The conquest was finally complete."

Mr. O'Connor then entered into a comparison of the English and Irish land systems as they existed.

"The improvements on English property were made by the landlords," said the speaker, "while in Ireland they were all done by the tenants to the advantage of the owners and the detriment of the occupants. If the Irish tenant made any improvements on his property the rent was raised, the landlord advancing the opinion that if he could afford to improve he could afford to pay higher rent. The Irish landlords also retained the right to evict."

"The key to the Irish land struggle is the fact that all the produce of the land went to pay the rents—the wheat, the oats, the cattle, the sheep, all contributed to the rents gathered up by the landlords—and as for the pig, you will all understand that he is the gentleman who pays much of the rent. (Laughter.) The potato was the only thing left."

"Between 1,000,000 Irish tillers of the soil and starvation there is one thin partition—the potato, and it is rather monotonous if taken alone. Potatoes and—point—the only diet. For the benefit of those who do not understand the phrase, I might say that they took a potato and 'pointed it at a red herring to give it the flavor. (Laughter.)"

"In 1846 the potato crop failed. It was the only crop that failed. The others were good and the cattle were abundant. The thin partition fell away. One million tillers of the soil in Ireland died of hunger because of the failure of the potato crop. I was born two years after that famine and saw and heard many men who survived. They said that when they walked along the road, they would come across the body of a little child—a little farther an older sister or brother, a little further another, and then they would see the corpse of the father and mother. Instead of being moved to compassion landlords became more severe. There raged over Ireland a plague of eviction."

Houses were pulled down and inside nothing was found but corpses."

"That was the beginning of the great Irish exodus—the great immigration. People fled everywhere and anywhere—to the first boat. One million deaths and one million exiles from their native land, because the potato crop failed. Famine and pestilence created by the failure of one crop only. There was plenty of other food in Ireland, but it was mortgaged by the landlords. Landlordism, and that alone, was the cause of all."

"That ought to have killed landlordism, but it survived."

"In 1879 the potato crop was still in the thin partition. In that year two-thirds of the crop failed, and in many respects conditions were the same as in 1846. As Gladstone said in the House of Commons, 'Eviction fell all over Ireland like snowflakes.'"

"Then occurred one of the greatest paradoxes in the history of Ireland. It was the beginning of the Irish emancipation, the freedom from landlordism which sucked the life blood from the people."

Mr. O'Connor then described the rise of the Irish party and of the efforts of Michael Davitt and Charles Stuart Parnell with the subsequent passage of the Irish Land Act and the Land Purchase Act—the foundation of the new Ireland.

Property has been restored to some 3,000 or 4,000 evicted tenants and state-built cottages have been erected, resulting in a revolutionary change in material within the past quarter of a century. The Ireland of today was based on peasant proprietorship, the surest and best foundation for national prosperity."

Mr. O'Connor then reached a point for the introduction of the self-government question.

He advocated the application of Canadian principles in Great Britain and Ireland.

"The different conditions which existed in each of the provinces of Canada today and which necessitate home rule in each of those provinces, are no more at variance than the differences between England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland. Each should have a parliament of its own for its own internal affairs, with a supreme parliament over all."

"I should amend the old Tory slogan of 'One throne, one law, one parliament,' and make it 'One throne, one law, and not 28 parliaments as there are now but another little one for Ireland, making 29,' and say I am breaking up the empire and talking treason and disloyalty."

"The Imperial parliament is fast becoming a laughing-stock not only to the world, but also to itself."

Mr. O'Connor contended that the Imperial parliament should be for imperial affairs, and there should be individual parliaments to look after the internal and domestic affairs of each part of the empire.

"At present," said Mr. O'Connor, "the Imperial parliament talks about street cars in Glasgow, a canal in Ireland, a bridge in Wales, and a public house in London."

Mr. O'Connor then proceeded to refute the argument that if Ireland were accorded self-government, a period of religious persecution would ensue.

"The argument is cruel and unjust," contended Mr. O'Connor, and pointed out that a great number of the great Irish agitators, including Davitt and Parnell were Protestants.

"We would welcome," he asserted, "any condition or safeguard which would provide for religious freedom." The question of loyalty then occupied the speaker's attention.

"I would not have any respect for any man who was loyal without having freedom," he said, "and I would not have respect for any man who would not give loyalty in return for freedom." (Applause.)

Mr. O'Connor asserted that the masses of England were in favor of home rule for Ireland. With the Irish they were united in the struggle against the House of Lords, the members of which he characterized as stupid.

"England and Ireland no longer stand facing each other in enmity," concluded Mr. O'Connor. "Their reconciliation is already written in their hearts, and it now remains to transcribe their reconciliation from their hearts to the statute books of the Imperial parliament."

As Mr. O'Connor sat down he was awarded prolonged applause.

Hon. Duncan Marshall in moving a vote of thanks pronounced himself in favor of an extension of self-government to Ireland along the lines of Canadian principles. He stated that Canadian people were unaware of the real conditions in Erin. The motion was seconded by Mr. Boyle.

"This is the best meeting I have had since I have been in Canada," said Mr. O'Connor in response. He expressed his regret at not being able to remain longer in the city.

The Separate School hall was lastly decorated for the occasion, with banners and streamers. The students of the University of Alberta were present in a body and entwined the proceedings with their college yells and popular songs.

There are generally a large number of crooks hanging around the border so that there were a fair number of cases of this kind."

"When I was coming back in the train we stopped several hours in Revere River. There was a train on the siding that was loaded with coal and burning away so hard that our train was not able to pass it. We had to wait while they ran an engine up and down the line scattering water over it, until we could get by."

"How about the sufferers?" the reporter asked.

"Well," said Mr. Baillie, "there are of course quite a number of them but they will not do so badly. There have been large subscriptions got up all over the country for them and they are all being cared for. There are a lot of idlers around the town that never had anything that are making a lot of money over the fire, receiving help on account of a loss that they never suffered."

"What is it like down there now?" was the next question.

"It has simply set the country back at least three or four years," he said. "That country is mostly lumber, and the mills have all been burnt, so there will not be much doing this winter, and every one had been congratulating themselves on what a good winter this was going to be."

"Is there any lumber left?"

"Oh, yes, there is plenty of lumber left but there are no mills to work it."

The great drought of the summer, Mr. Baillie said, had a lot to do with the fire. The country was dryer than it had ever been before and the fire had burned down to the muskeg preventing all efforts to put it out.

When he left Rainy River on the tenth of this month, the smoke was so thick that it was impossible to see more than a few yards ahead.

He started to cross the river one day but, although it is only a quarter of a mile wide, they got lost in the smoke and it took them nearly two hours to reach the farther shore.

Rainy River is now beset by typhoid fever. When Mr. Baillie left on the tenth of October there were some thing like fifty cases in hospital, the majority of which had been brought over from Beaudette. This, Mr. Baillie said, threatened to be the worst scare of all.

The various doctors who have typhoid patients report them making satisfactory progress. All the fever patients at the hospital are also on the way to recovery. None of the physicians look on the situation with anything like alarm.

SUPREME COURT.

The judgment of Mr. Justice Beck on Saturday in Hughes vs. Pomeroy seemed to the outsider a model of fairness. The case was very involved. Hughes sued Pomeroy for his account of $675, including four months pay for time expended at the work of the Windsor Hotel, Melville, Sask. The evidence was very conflicting but the judge tended to believe that Hughes story was confirmed by the surrounding circumstances. Hughes' claim for damages he considered absurd in view of the fact that he was not working half the time. On the other hand he considered he was bound to get something, so awarded him $220 as damages for delay in payment. The announcements and large left on his hands by Pomeroy, who denied that they were orders, were not affected by the judgment, but to insure fair dealing the jury withheld the question of costs to see how the parties would deal with one another. The costs will be assigned accordingly.

MR. LEECH BANQUETTED.

At a banquet given in this honor at Palmer's cafe on Saturday night, Mr. Hilmy Leech, K. C. of Winnipeg gave an able, forceful and patriotic address on the good work and fine effects of the Imperial Veterans' Association. A large number of local veterans were present.

In the course of his address offered "The Grand Army of the Republic" as an example of the good work done in the uplifting of the standard of men, by a veterans' association.

In explaining another object of the association, Mr. Leech said: "We have in our beloved Canada the graves of many fallen heroes whose resting places are unmarked and almost forgotten. Ninety-eight years have passed since that brave heroine left her wounded husband and made that night trip alone to warn the British forces at Queenstown Heights of the Americans' advance on them, thus averting a disaster, and this generation which has been born to enjoy the fruits of her sacrifice and heroism have failed to give her even a tablet to mark her resting place. This is one of the objects of this association."

EDMONTON FUSILIERS. The commanding officer has today been informed by the D. O. C. that a provisional school of instruction for officers and non-commissioned officers will be carried on at Edmonton for six weeks commencing on Nov. 14. Sergeants Farnsworth and George of Winnipeg will be the instructors.

A meeting of officers is called for Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock to make arrangements. A list of names of all the officers and non-commissioned officers who will attend the school will have to be forwarded to the D. O. C. without delay. A full attendance of the non-commissioned officers' class is required for Tuesday evening.

The present class will be kept up in the meantime so as to fully cover the preliminary work before the school opens.
